A PROCLAMATION. By the president of the United State America:
At no period in their history since the United States became a nation has this people had abundant and so universal reasons for joy and gratitude for the favor of Almighty God, or been subject to so profound an obligation to give thanks to His loving kindness and humbly to implore His continued care and protection. Health, wealth and prosperity throughout all our wealth and prosperity throughout all our borders; peace, honor and friendship with all the world; firm and faithful adherence by the great body of our population to the principles of liberty and justice which principles f liberty and justice which have made our greatness as a nation, and to the wile institutions and strong frame of government and society, which will perpetuate it. For all these let the thanks of a happy, For all these let the thanks of a happy, united people with one voice ascend in devout homage to the giver of all good. I furthermore recommend that on Thursday, the 25th of November next, the people meet at their respective places of worship to make the acknowledgment of His bounties and His septection, and to offer to ties and His protection and to offer to Him prayer for their continuance. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this thirty first day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and fifth.
